Cameron Davis - 2011

Born on November 2, 1983, Cameron grew up in Hamlett, NC and began taking shag lessons at the age of 5 from Sam and Sarah west. Her love of shag and beach music was inspired by her mom who instilled an authentic love of the music and culture and her dad, “Kebo” Davis, who was a deejay and radio station owner. When she first danced in the national shag dance championships in 1992 at 8 years old, she and her partner became the youngest couple to dance in the nationals at that time. Cameron loved all types of dance, continued to dance and compete through college, and was a member of the UNC – Wilmington dance team. She became a national shag dance championships non-pro champion in 2010 with partner Alan Stokes and as a member of the national shag dance championships dance team traveled to Washington, DC with Vanna White to promote the Shag and the Myrtle Beach area. Cameron continues to love the music, the dance, and the people who keep it alive!
