

GARRETT SPENCER

GARRETT SPENCER

Garrett was born on July 23,1992, and raised in Raleigh, North Carolina. He fell in love with the music of shag while listening to the jukebox with his dad. His parents introduced him to the dance when they started taking him to Loafers Beach Club in Raleigh, where he took his first class at the age of 12. His first contest was at Junior SOS at age 13. He went on to compete in the Junior II division at various contests throughout the United States including the National Shag Dance Championships, The US Open, and the Grand National Dance Championships where he received 1st place in Junior II in 2013. He was a member of The Southern Dozen and the Triangle Junior Shag Dance Teams. Later he won the Non-Pro title at the National Shag Dance Championships with his wife, Kelly Floyd Spencer. He attended Wake Tech Community College in Raleigh, North Carolina. Garrett now resides in Aynor, South Carolina with his wife and owns a stall management company for Horse Shows throughout the Carolinas. He continues to share his love of the Dance by attending local events and through the beloved music. He is excited to teach the Dance to his future son.